

CMI Individual Certification - What's Involved?

Pre-work	Take the CMI Your individual CMI results play an integral part in the certification process. Watch the video learning series Through a series of 5 brief videos, you will learn all about the Coaching Mindset Index model and reports. Read the Practitioner Guide A comprehensive guide to all things CMI. Complete the knowledge check Before the live session, you are required to demonstrate your knowledge of foundational CMI concepts. Complete the pre-certification survey We ask that you provide some background information for the facilitator, such as your coaching experience and preferred learning style.
Session 1	Once you complete the pre-work, you will schedule a 1-hour call with a Master CMI Practitioner. During this call, you will receive a debrief of your own CMI results and have the opportunity to ask questions.
Between Sessions	You will be assigned a collection of sample reports for review and study, with the expectation that you will prepare a list of hypotheses and questions relating to the report contents.
Session 2	In your second call with the Master CMI Practitioner, you will present your interpretation of the sample reports and describe how you would approach leading debriefs with these individuals.
Post-work	Complete a feedback survey We want your feedback! We ask that you complete a brief survey on the certification process.

Once the Master CMI Practitioner determines you have demonstrated a satisfactory degree of CMI expertise, you will be awarded a certificate and given access to exclusive practitioner materials.
