

CMI Group Certification - What's Involved?

Pre-work

Take the CMI

Your individual CMI results play an integral part in the certification process.

Watch the video learning series

Through a series of 5 brief videos, you will learn all about the Coaching Mindset Index.

Read the practitioner Guide

A comprehensive guide to all things CMI.

Complete the knowledge check

Before the live session, you are required to demonstrate your knowledge of foundational CMI concepts.

Complete the pre-session survey

We ask that you provide some background information for the facilitator, such as your coaching experience and preferred learning style.

Live Session

Engage in learning and discussions with like-minded professionals in a highly interactive virtual session facilitated by a master CMI practitioner. In the session, you will:

- Discuss your insights from reading your own CMI report
- Interpret and discuss sample reports
- Learn best practices and discuss ideas for applying the CMI in a group workshop setting

Post-work

Complete a CMI debrief

Following the session, you will be paired with another practitioner to debrief one another's CMI results. You will schedule this on your own time, allowing 60 minutes for each debrief.

Submit a peer evaluation

Following the debrief of your results, you are required to submit a peer evaluation for your partner.

Complete a feedback survey

We want your feedback! We ask that you complete a brief survey on the certification process.

Once we receive a satisfactory evaluation from your partner, you are now ready to be certified. You will receive your certificate and a bundle of resources exclusively for certified practitioners.
